

ALL Alliance for Leading & Learning

Training School-based Mental Health Professionals

THE OPPORTUNITY

The Alliance for Leading and Learning (ALL) is a new initiative in Cumberland County Schools (CCS) to develop a pipeline for the advancement of school-based mental health professionals (SBMH). CCS will work in partnership with Fayetteville State University (FSU) and the University of North Carolina at Pembroke (UNCP), along with RTI International to implement this innovative program to address shortages in SBMH.

REQUIREMENTS

- School Counseling and Social Work students must be in their last year or concentration year of their master's program in order to apply.
- Require the completion of 650 hours including your program's required hours.

BENEFITS

Graduate counseling and social work students who are selected for the ALL program will be rewarded with the privileges below:

- Award of the CCS School-Based Mental Health Certification
- Preferred hiring status at CCS
- Reimbursement for professional testing exam fees, initial licensure fees, mileage for work-related travel
- Opportunity for a stipend or tuition reimbursement
- Mock Interviews
